ID Logistics to handle logistics for Spanish footwear and accessories manufacturer Mustang

- The operator is inaugurating a new 17,000 sqm platform at Valencia (Spain) to manage MUSTANG entire national and international supply chain on a centralized basis
- The 5-year agreement covers movements of over 6 million pairs of shoes and accessories

Madrid, 8 February 2017: ID Logistics, a leading international contract logistics group, has sealed an agreement with MUSTANG, Spain's number one footwear and accessories group, to handle the logistics for all its products.

The new 17,000 sqm platform located at Massalavés (Valencia, Spain) will form the backbone of ID Logistics' operations. Mustang's entire supply chain for the national and international markets will be run centrally from this hub.

ID Logistics will take charge of the receipt and storage of goods and order fulfilment, including the value-added co-packing and special handling services, to meet the needs of various different distribution channels. These range from traditional retail and wholesale networks through to large e-commerce websites. E-commerce represents a strategic priority for Mustang, which operates a high-performance online sales platform integrated with its ERP system, in turn linked directly with ID Logistics' warehouse management system. The aim is to guarantee consumers high-quality service and the best possible shopping experience.

The implementation of this project dovetails perfectly with its flexibility and its unparalleled ability to meet consumers' needs, the key values underpinning Mustang's reputation in the marketplace.

Miguel Carrasco, Mustang's Head of Logistics, commented: "This agreement is crucially important for MTNG Experience, and we are counting on ID Logistics to support us during this vital stage in our expansion and international development by creating value for our group through improvements to our supply chain".

Javier Echenique, ID Logistics' Managing Director in Spain, added: "ID Logistics is proud to have gained Mustang's trust. Above and beyond the prestige that comes from working with this highly prestigious customer, the agreement will reinforce our positioning in the footwear and accessories sector and in e-commerce transaction management. Our experience and our expertise in Spain and international markets gave us a crucial edge over our rivals. We are delighted with this project, which, we hope, marks the beginning of a long-term partnership."
