ID Logistics, the international leader in contract logistics, has been chosen by AB inBev France, the French subsidiary of the world's leading brewer. AB inBev France wishes to optimize the distribution flows of its retail and hospitality networks with the opening of two new logistics sites in highly strategic areas in France. ID Logistics has been chosen by AB inBev France to ensure the reception, preparation and shipping activities in these new sites:

- Neuillé-Pont-Pierre (37): the first operational site of this new collaboration, which is scheduled to start operations in March 2024. From this brand-new building, AB inBev France will distribute the entire western part of France. With a total surface area of 32,000 m², this site has a storage capacity of 25,000 pallets and will employ 20 permanent employees.
- Cambrai (59): with a surface area of 60,000 m², with the possibility of extension of 30,000 m², the site is positioned on the backbone that connects Lille-Marseille, in order to distribute the entire eastern part of France. With a storage capacity of 45,000 pallets, the site will have 50 permanent employees and will start operations in November 2024.

SITES EQUIPPED WITH THE LATEST TECHNOLOGIES FOR ORDER PREPARATION AND EMPLOYEE SAFETY

ID Logistics was selected for the quality of the services offered and in particular for the technologies that will be deployed on the two sites. These innovations ensure perfect monitoring and optimization of order picking and guarantee a maximum level of safety for employees on site.

To ensure the reliability and perfect optimization of order preparation, ID Logistics implements:

- Free Scan: a technology that includes a camera positioned on the trolleys, with regular reading of the labels. This innovation makes it possible to increase productivity for the order picker and to have better ergonomics, as he/she does not need to get out of the picking trolley.
- Beacons: placed on dock doors, these beacons validate the loading of the right pallet into the right truck. They make the customer's shipping process more ergonomic and reliable, significantly reducing dock delays and shipping errors.
- Best Dock: this software optimizes the location of pallets during receptions, in order to be as close as possible to the truck and storage locations, thus avoiding unnecessary round trips and reducing the distances for pickers.

The safety of employees is ensured by all of ID Logistics' prevention and training tools (Securitab, e-learning, safety day, etc.). The logistician is also investing in an innovative anti-collision tool:

- Hit-Not: a collision avoidance system with transmitter and receiver present on the preparation trolley. When the pedestrian approaches the truck, the technology beeps, preventing human/machine collisions in the warehouse.

A CUSTOMER CONCERNED ABOUT THE CARBON FOOTPRINT OF ITS LOGISTICS ACTIVITIES

Committed to a responsible and environmental approach to all its activities, AB InBev France ensures that its logistics sites are integrated into this approach. For example, ID Logistics has implemented a new software – Yard Management System – that ensures minimal downtime of the truck carrier on site. This technology makes it possible to manage the entry, waiting and route of trucks, to avoid their downtime as much as possible and to optimize flows. It also reduces unnecessary truck hours, as well as optimizing loads, reducing the number of trips.

Finally, the two logistics sites meet AB InBev France's environmental commitments, equipped with LED lighting and BREEAM certified; the Cambrai site is even BREEAM Very Good certified, including a roof equipped with photovoltaic panels.

"At ID Logistics, we are proud of this new partnership with AB InBev France, which demonstrates confidence in our expertise in the consumer goods sector. We have worked hand in hand to meet AB InBev France to ensure efficient and safe technological logistics for France and Europe. This new collaboration is perfectly in line with the Group's growth dynamic." - Eric Hémar, Chairman of ID Logistics Group

"The opening of these new locations is a significant achievement that will bring several benefits to our business. Being closer to our customers will result in faster and more efficient deliveries, which will improve customer satisfaction and the overall business of the company. This is a big step towards better service and growing our business." - Pieter Anciaux, Managing Director of AB InBev France.
