Marie Gay-de Tailly appointed Executive Vice-President, Human Resources at ID Logistics Group

Cavaillon, 12 December 2017 - ID Logistics is today announcing the appointment of Marie Gay-de Tailly as Group's Executive Vice-President, Human Resources. Marie Gay-de Tailly will report to Chief Operating Officer Christophe Satin and sit on the Executive Committee. She has been tasked with establishing and implementing the Human Resources policy for all the 17 ID Logistics entities around the world. Her appointment has been effective since 25 September 2017.

Marie Gay-de Tailly, a graduate of the Paris Institute of Political Studies who also gained a law degree and a DESS postgraduate diploma in human resources, began her career in 1991 as Human Resources Director at the Saint-Mamet group. In 1996, she joined Nestlé Waters as Human Resources Development Director, before going on to head up Agefos-PME as CEO between 2002 and 2003.

Marie joined the Safran group in 2004 as International Human Resources Development Director. Staying with the group, she served as SVP Human Resources at Messier Services, then Morpho. She was also a member of these subsidiaries' Executive Committee.

ID Logistics faces a number of HR challenges. Marie's role is to help nurture the Group's strong growth by developing the skills of the men and women working for ID Logistics by introducing both global and local HR practices to attract new talent and support the organisation's transformation and changes in its business activities.
